a note of explanation...

ideas of newness and change were kept in mind by each and every department of this year's staff. every phase of our publication is new and different and as well executed as our abilities allow.

on our cover we have represented our patron and protector, saint benedict in a non-traditional way. we have ventured to portray him as a young, beardless man as we would rather think saint benedict actually looked. the father of monasticism is usually depicted wearing a thick beard, but benedict was the noble son of a distinguished roman family and romans were known for their clean-shaven jawbones. hence the patron of the youthful students of saint benedict's may well be pictured beardless.

saint benedict's
preparatory school
Newark, New Jersey

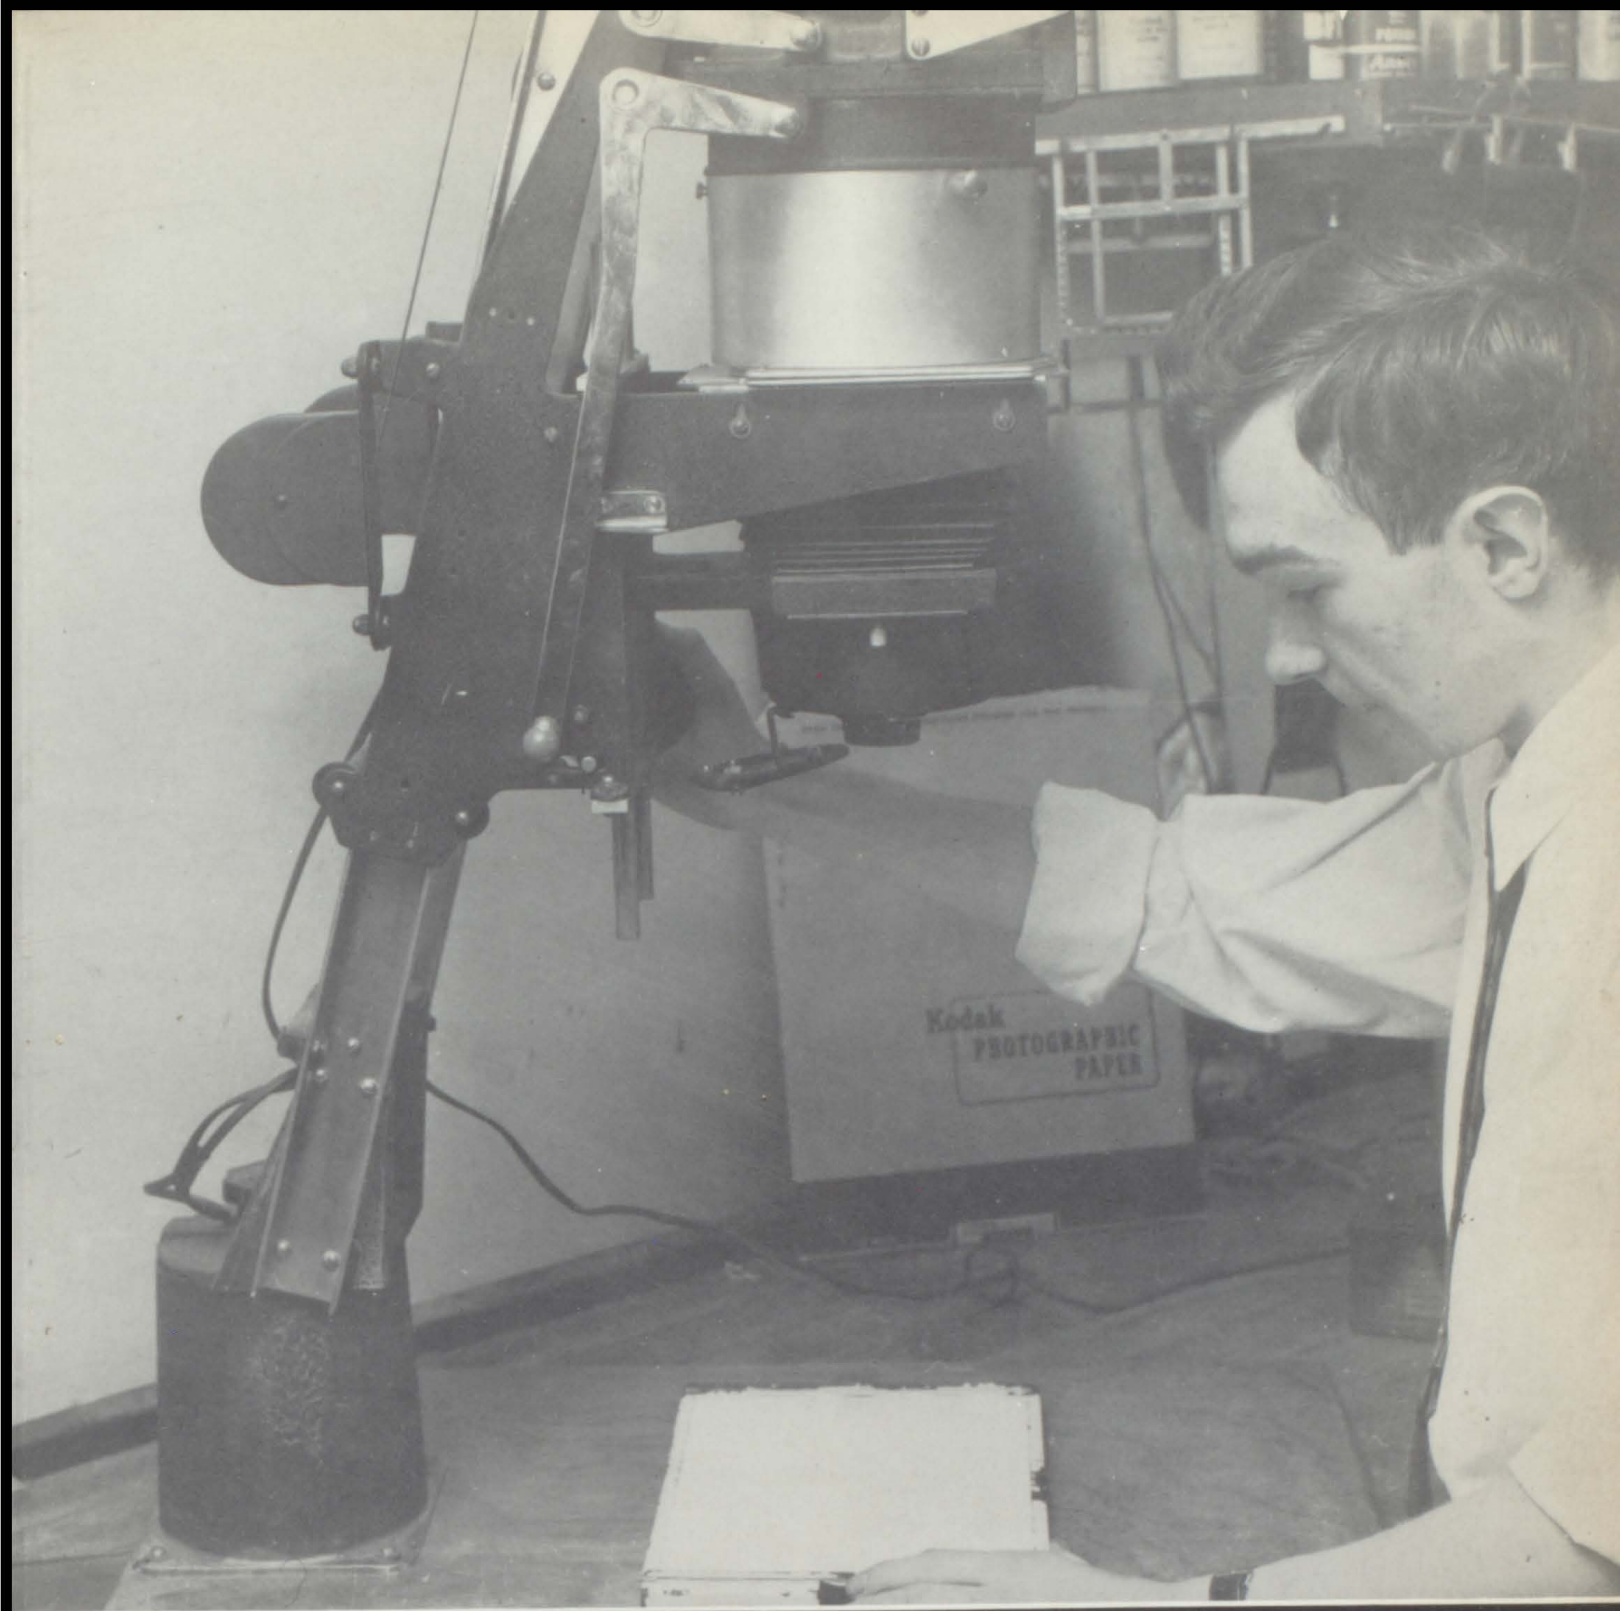

the success of a school as a developer of the complete man requires that it consist of more than classroom lectures, experiments, and examinations. the standard school discipline must be complemented by opportunities which enrich and integrate mere book-knowledge: religious, athletic, organizational and social.

while acknowledging the value of the full-bodied secular education, St. Benedict's does not de-emphasize nor meekly accept religion; rather, it proudly recognizes the fact that the quintessence of success in the Benedictine school is religion.

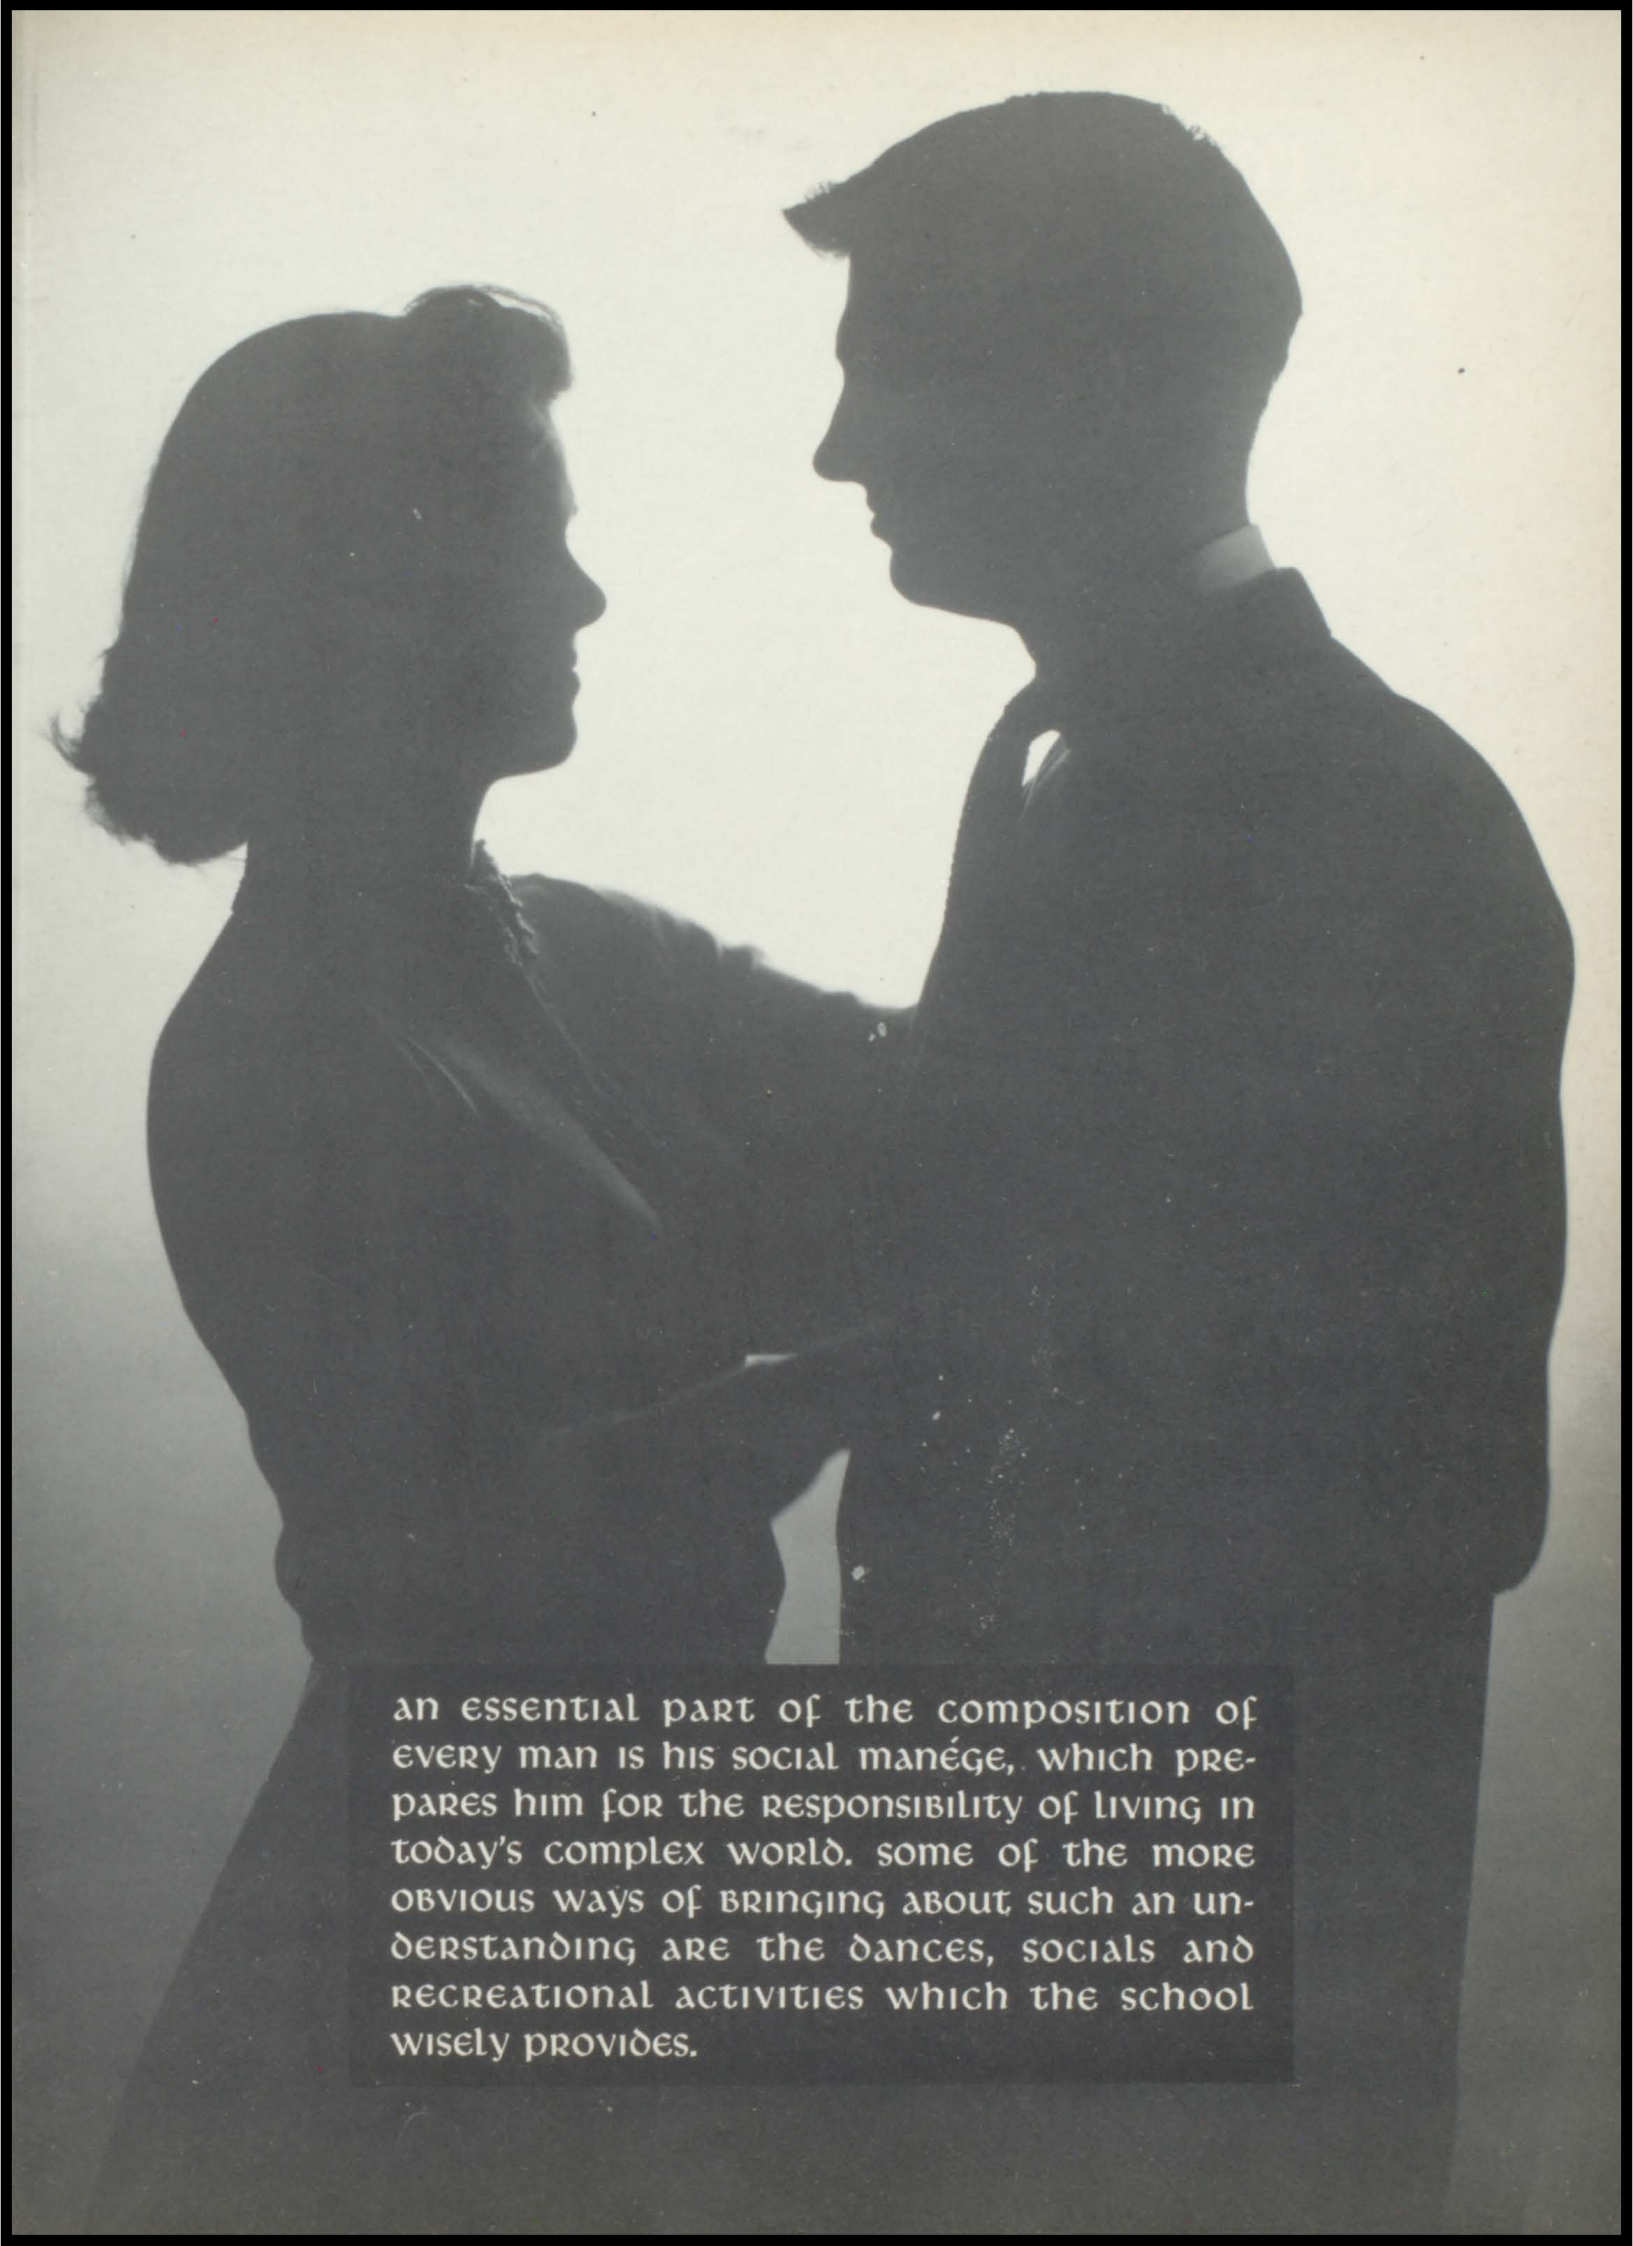

athletics teach us something that cannot be learned academically-sportsmanship; and are therefore as much a part of our education as any study. it is the old story of winning or losing with dignity; but winning, while always desirable, is not the principle end for which sports are played, it is the honest effort of trying to win that makes the game.

photography, music, journalism, public speaking—the opportunity of learning some of these skills which make post-school living more bearable is provided by the school. no one is forced into these activities, of course, but if a student notices an unexpected yen within himself to relax in a cool, quiet darkroom, or stand up and bellow a song, or write a scathing editorial, or trade discreet insults on a debate platform, the opportunity is always there. satisfying the universal demand of men to express themselves, organizational activities are a major part of the school scheme.

Book knowledge, while not an end in itself, is a vital part of the balanced education. Through the discipline of science and language, the refinement of literature and the lessons of history, the student begins to grasp the complexity of the human and its place in the world.

A high-contrast black and white photograph showing the silhouettes of a man and a woman in formal attire. The woman is on the left, facing right, with her hair styled in a short, wavy bob. The man is on the right, facing left, with short hair. They are in a close embrace, with the woman's arms around the man's waist. The background is a bright, uniform light, creating a stark contrast with the dark figures. The overall mood is romantic and formal.

an essential part of the composition of every man is his social manège, which prepares him for the responsibility of living in today's complex world. some of the more obvious ways of BRINGING ABOUT such an understanding are the dances, socials and recreational activities which the school wisely provides.

in memoriam

REV. DANIEL READY, O.S.B.

AUGUST 13, 1955

president

the RIGHT REVEREND PATRICK M. O'BRIEN, O.S.B.

"For he is supposed to hold the place of Christ in the monastery, when he is called by his name Abba (Father)."

(Holy Rule of St. Benedict, Chapter II)

Holding the place of Christ in St. Mary's Abbey is Abbot Patrick O'Brien, father to the students as well as to the monks. Dignified but approachable, he sets an example for all in the school. As president of the school, it is up to Abbot Patrick to govern it wisely—a task he has performed conscientiously and well.

administration

Rev. Philip Hoover, O.S.B.

REV. PHILIP HOOVER, O.S.B.
Headmaster

Father Philip, our Headmaster, is completing his eighth year in office. Under his administration, we saw the end of study periods, casual dress, and senior smoking privileges. In our Freshman year, he encouraged student participation in sports, and two years later re-instituted the custom of bi-weekly assemblies. Having had a hand in every phase of our work, he has given us the spiritual and material advantages of Christian education.

REV. DUNSTAN SMITH, O.S.B.
Dean of Discipline

Justice tempered with mercy—this classic phrase describes the manner in which Father Dunstan executes his duties as Dean of Discipline. He has won the respect of the entire student body by his impartial judgement in all matters. In spite of these pressing tasks, he somehow found time to teach us Junior Religion.

REV. NICHOLAS COLLINS, O.S.B.
Dean of Studies

A qualified man for a Herculean task—that's Father Nicholas. While assisting the Headmaster of the school, he is also the Dean of Studies. The thought of being sent to Father Nicholas sends chills through the average student, and spurs him on to better work. This, then, has been Father Nicholas' part in putting us through the Bee Hive.

VERY REV. MATTHEW HOEHN, O.S.B.
Librarian

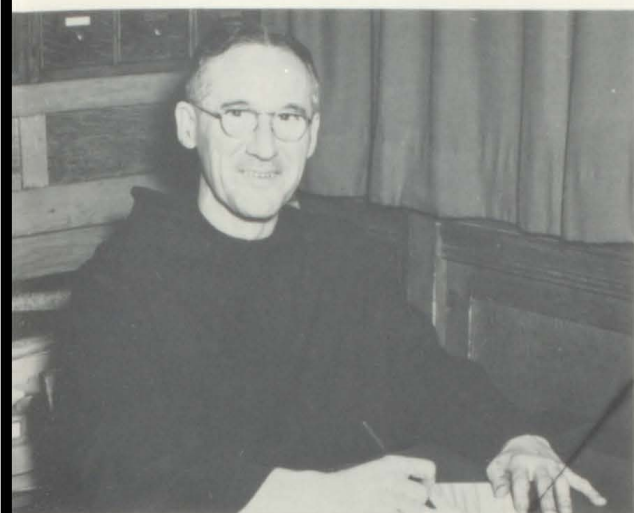

In the person of Father Matthew, St. Benedict's is fortunate in having a thoroughly qualified librarian. For thirty years he has been helping students read their way through 23,703 volumes of which the library boasts. His agreeable nature has made him consistently popular with the Bees for these many years.

Blessings for a happy future
Mark W. Confroy
O.S.B.

REV. MARK CONFROY, O.S.B.
Guidance Director

The vocational problems that have confronted us at St. Benedict's have been solved chiefly through the efforts of Father Mark. We were placed in either a scientific or classical course in our junior year, according to tests and Father's personal knowledge of us. The task of selecting a college was made considerably easier by his suggestions and assistance in gaining entrance to them. Father also taught us Freshman English.

BROTHER DENNIS ROBERTSON, O.S.B.
Office Staff

Brother Dennis carefully inserted the exam stencil into the mimeograph machine, then proceeded to roll out countless copies. This is indeed a trying task; it is said that one Latin test was so hard that it broke the machine. Without the lanky brother, the students would have to struggle through continuous subjective tests, in which they "exhaust the topic".

BROTHER EDWIN AUSTIN, O.S.B.
Attendance Clerk

The silent brother leaned across the desk and handed us our late slips. Brother Edward is Father Dunstan's adjutant in charge of tardiness, absentees, and other matters that do not reach the inner sanctum. Capably, if circumspectly, the good brother performs his duties.

BROTHER MICHAEL SCANLON, O.S.B.
Infirmary

Healer of the sick, comforter of the afflicted and guardian of the infirmary—these words are an apt description of Brother Michael and his work. With gentle hands he cares for the disabled Bees; yet, ready to spot fakers with his eagle eye and turn them down with his lion heart.

MR. PHILIP RAFTER
Registrar

One of the first members of the administration a prospective student meets is the registrar. For the last twenty-six years, Mr. Rafter has occupied the position of registrar, and in this capacity acts as bursar. In spite of the little contact he has with the student body, he manages to keep in his mind every student's name and record, as well as everybody who has ever graduated from the Hive.

VERY REV. MICHAEL COLLINS, O.S.B.
Chemistry, German

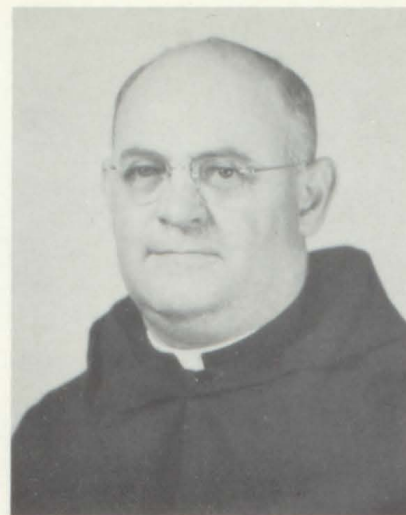

"Auf Deutsch, bitte, und sitz dich hin," spoke Father Michael to our German class. He speaks no English, for he is afraid that we would get used to it. He is equally proficient as a chemistry teacher, instructing the class in "parlor tricks", as he affectionately calls his experiments. Father's course, although somewhat difficult, offered us a thorough understanding of chemistry fundamentals.

REV. MARTIN BURNE, O.S.B.
Religion, German

It is mainly due to Father Martin that St. Benedict's has developed its peerless music department. One of the busiest priests at the Bee Hive, he teaches instrumental skills to the former tin-eared students. Along with these musical chores, he instructs Senior Religion and Junior German.

*"God is love."
Martin, R.P.*

REV. EDWIN MULLEN, O.S.B.
Geometry

"Nice speech brother, what does it mean?" With these words, Father Edwin would reprimand any Sophomore with the audacity to hand him double talk. The Geometry teacher would draw his parallelograms and arcs with unfailing accuracy, trying to get us to do the same. Along with teaching Geometry, he supervises the cafeteria.

faculty

REV. GENADIUS DIEZ, O.S.B.
History, Latin

Our third year History course was presented to us through the untiring efforts of Father Genadius. Skillfully, he guided us through the medieval and modern history of the world, noting with special interest the history of Spain. He also educates the Sophomores in the finer points of Caesar's Gallic Wars.

REV. GERALD FLYNN, O.S.B.
English

Congratulations are in order for Father Gerald who is completing his twenty-fifth year as a priest and teacher at St. Benedict's. It is beyond his comprehension how anyone could forget the immortal phrases of Percy Bysshe Shelley or some other well-known poet. We believe that there is no English word that Father Gerald cannot pronounce, spell, and define correctly.

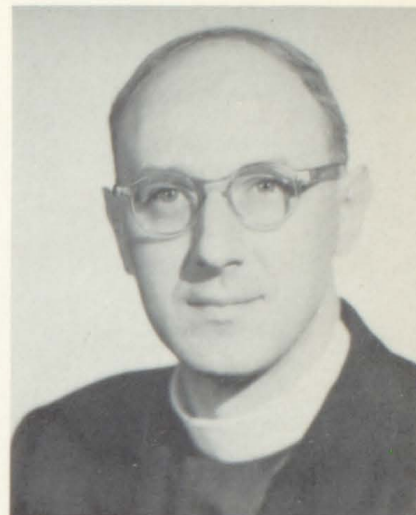

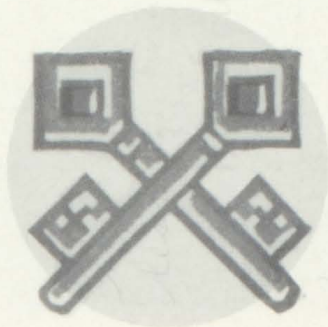

In Gerald

REV. GEORGE SHERRY, O.S.B.

Religion

Father George, our Sophomore Religion teacher, came to us after attaining the rank of Major as a chaplain in the army. From him we learned how Holy Mother Church survived throughout all the eras of time, true to the prophecy of Christ. Father George helped us to understand Popes Urban II and Pius X, and their achievements. As far as we are concerned, he has succeeded as a teacher, just as he has in his service to the country.

REV. JUSTIN CSANYI, O.S.B.

French, Freehand Drawing

Father Justin teaches Senior French and instructs the Sophomores in the fundamentals of freehand drawing. His flare for renaming students is matched by his international collection of persuaders, including the celebrated Fuji-Saki. Father Justin is also the creator of colorful posters which adorn the walls of the school at Christmas.

REV. TERENCE O'CONNOR, O.S.B.

Physics, Camera Club Moderator

The qualified Physics instructor at the Bee Hive is Father Terence. His easy-going manner and the ease which he conducts experiments and demonstrations has caused many a Junior to sit astounded at his mental capacity. Interspersing his intelligent lectures with lively anecdotes, he has gained an everlasting popularity with his students.

REV. LAURENCE GRASSMAN, O.S.B.

Physical Science, Chemistry

A staunch advocate of visual education, Father Laurence devotes at least one period a week to a film of scientific nature in his course in Physical Science. He uses innumerable types of demonstrations in imparting to us his vast knowledge of the wonders and mysteries of the physical and chemical worlds.

REV. EDMUND NUGENT, O.S.B.

Religion, Speech

Students at St. Benedict's are taught the art of correct speaking by Father Edmund, a fine speaker in his own right. His course takes in the entire speaking field from dramatic readings to extemporaneous speaking and humor. Any oratorical "savoir faire" that the class of '56 might have, it owes to this teacher. In addition to his teaching duties, Father Edmund moderates the Forum.

REV. LEO BEGER, O.S.B.
Latin, Golf Coach

Pater Leo venit . . . and he remained. For ten years he has been taking the Sophomores through the intricacies of Julius Caesar's Gallic Wars. His clever puns and "tid-bits" on the lives of the Romans will remain in our minds long after the "A.A.'s" (ablative absolutes) and the "D.P.'s" (deponent verbs) are forgotten.

REV. OWEN HUDSON, O.S.B.

History, Alumni Association Moderator

Notes, essays, and outlines were Father Owen's weapons for drilling Ancient History into us. After the first quarter marks had been given, he gave particular attention to the students that flunked, and by the end of the first semester they knew their history. Father was a unique teacher, but he brought us through our first year of history at St. Benedict's with a better understanding of the matter, as well as the work necessary to attain good marks in the subject.

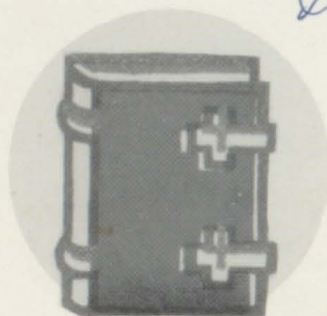

REV. CORNELIUS SWEENEY, O.S.B.
English

During our Junior English course we were made aware of the importance of facing reality by Father Cornelius. We will remember the immortal works of Chaucer, Shakespeare, Milton, and other famous authors to which we were introduced. After having been buried in the "Elegy in a Country Churchyard" and "Lost Paradise", we were brought back to life with his teaching that Christ will reward us if we do our best. None will ever forget the English we learned in Father Cornelius' class.

REV. ANSELM MURRAY, O.S.B.
Mathematics, P.T.A. Moderator,
Religion

Everything from counting apples to figuring tangents was included in our Freshman Algebra course—but we were in the competent hands of Father Anselm. He used the simple teaching method of instruction, demonstration, and then drill, drill, drill, until we had no doubts. He is also the efficient moderator of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Congratulations to Father Columba O.S.B.

REV. COLUMBA RAFFERTY, O.S.B.
History, Telolog Adviser,
Senior Moderator

We entered the Senior History class with the presupposition that it would be a picnic, but were quickly shaken out of this delusion by Father Columba's rousing voice. As Senior Moderator, he has had a hand in all our social activities, and concerned himself with our problems, both scholastic and personal. As Telolog adviser, he drove us relentlessly that we might have a yearbook comparable to the best. He is not only a teacher to every Senior, but a friend as well.

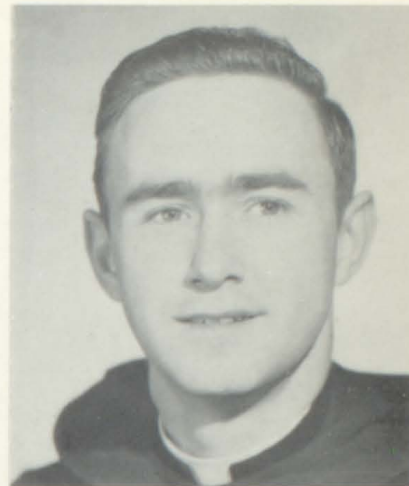

REV. THEODORE HOWARTH, O.S.B.
Mathematics

The fact that all students are not created with a natural knowledge of math sometimes poses a problem for Father Theodore. From hyperbolas to polyhedral angles, he dispels all hazy mathematical ideas which we may have. He divides his knowledge of Algebra, Trig, Solid, and Analytical Geometry between the Junior and Senior classes.

REV. EUGENE SCHWARZ, O.S.B.
Music, German, Religion, Choral
Music Director

"One and two and three and four," a hand beat with the preceeding numbers repeated in the desired rhythm is among the manifestations of the vocal endeavors which emanate from the chorus room during the lunch periods. Fortunately for his Freshman and Junior classes, Father Eugene frequently descends from the world of cadenzas and mordents to the more prosaic task of conducting a class.

REV. NORBERT McLAUGHLIN, O.S.B.
Mathematics

Father Norbert came to the Bee Hive in time to greet the Class of '56 in our Sophomore year. The blackboard compass had a way of getting him into knots, so he resorted to a piece of chalk to draw his geometric figures, which were invariably so big that half of them wound up on the border and wall. Although he is no artist, he knows his Geometry; and when we completed his course, we knew it too.

Fr. Norbert O.S.B.

REV. BENEDICT TYLER, O.S.B.
Religion, Head of the Religion
Department

Although the Class of '56 has never had Father Benedict as a teacher, we have come to know and respect him in his capacity as head of the Religion Department. As the Freshman Religion teacher, he takes the first year men through the aspects of the Mass, Liturgy, and the Saint Mary Missal. The underclassmen are fortunate in having their Religion course in his hands.

REV. BASIL ZUSI, O.S.B.
Biology, Biology Club Moderator,
Sophomore Moderator

A miniature zoo, movies, slides, and experiments are all part of Father Basil's equipment for leading the Sophs through the natural sciences. An efficient Biology Club moderator, he takes this selected group through the more intricate parts of the biological world. As moderator of the Sophomore class, Father Basil has spread his personality over two hundred students in all of their activities.

Fr. Basil O.S.B.

*Quemquom laborans
Deus benedict tibi
Ambrose, O.S.B.*

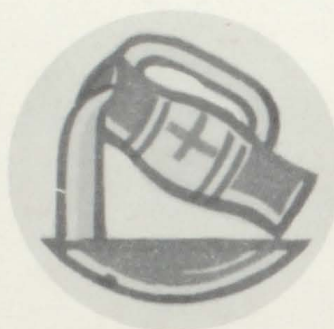

REV. AMBROSE CLARK, O.S.B.
Latin, Benedict News Moderator

Along with being the faculty adviser to the Benedict News, Father Ambrose introduces the Juniors to Cicero and the evil Cataline, and the Seniors to Virgil's Aeneid. Very often it happens that a particular word has a synonym that is practically extinct, then Father Ambrose declares, "This, gentlemen, is your word for the day." The Virgilian scholar then proceeds to explain the etymology of the word. Father Ambrose is often asked, "Read any good dictionaries lately?"

REV. ANTHONY KOVACS, O.S.B.
Mathematics

Considered by some to be the bete noir of the library, Father Anthony also teaches Freshman Algebra. Although we have never encountered him in his teaching capacity, we learned of him through the reports of his present classes. Father spent three years teaching at Delbarton before coming to the Bee Hive.

REV. BRENDAN CASH, O.S.B.
English

After serving as curate in Wilmington, Delaware and St. Joseph's, Maplewood, Father Brendan came to St. Benedict's and was appointed Freshman English teacher. Father Brendan associates with the rest of the student body in the performance of his job as assistant to Father Matthew in the library.

REV. PATRICK McCAFFERTY, O.S.B.
Latin

Along with instructing the Freshman in the essentials of the Latin language, Father Patrick finds time to serve as assistant librarian. Prior to his arrival at St. Benedict's, Father was curate at Blessed Sacrament in Elizabeth.

MR. JAMES IRVING
French, English

Mr. Irving came to the Bee Hive in the fall of '55, and since that time has proven himself an excellent teacher. Addressing his students with the classic title "mister", he holds the class spell-bound with his fluent French and knowledge of Gallican culture.

MR. RALPH CONFESSORE
Biology

Mr. Confessore graduated from the Hive and enlisted in the Air Force, in which he served two years as a rocket specialist. He then attended Seton Hall University and graduated with a B.S. degree in chemistry. He is the new member of St. Benedict's faculty who teaches biology.

MR. SAM CAVALLERO
History, Physical Education, Assistant Football Coach

A valuable member of the coaching staff at St. Benedict's is Sam Cavallero, the line coach of the football team. He worked those linemen to the capacity of their endurance during practice, to strengthen them for the grueling hardships of a football game. Aside from exacting duties, Mr. Cavallero taught history and presided over our gym classes.

They must also have a knowledge of the parts of the Mass, their purpose, and, in some cases, their origin. Father Benedict is the teacher.

SWIMMING

After having waited a number of years, a swimming team was finally organized at St. Benedict's. We are certain that this team will be a great success as is evidenced by the strong potentials among the underclassmen. Much support will have to be given to the swimming Bees in order that they will attain the same prestige as our other varsity sports.

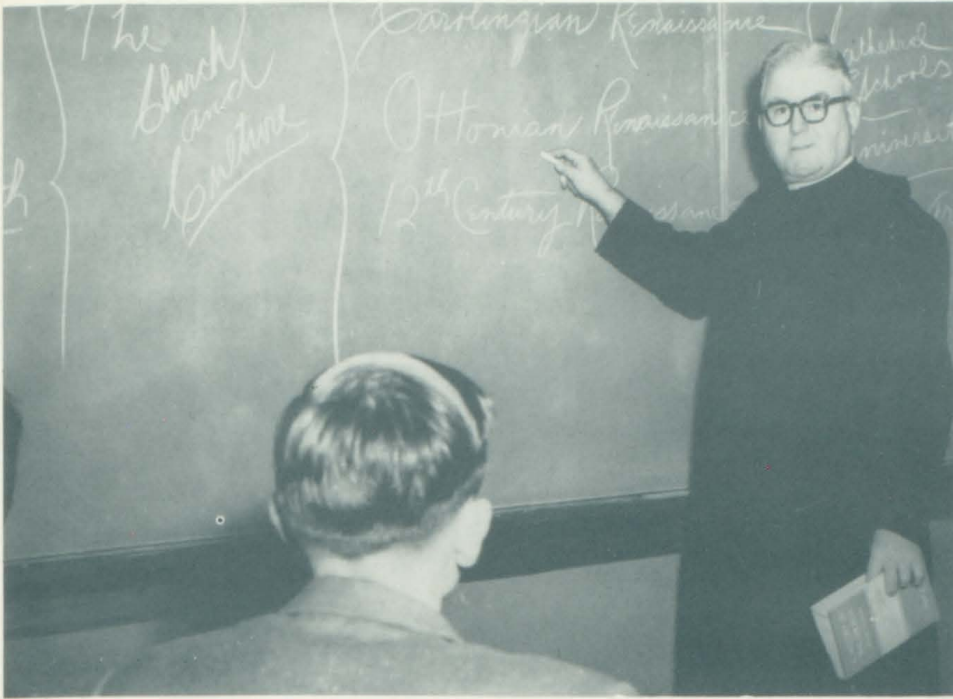

SENIOR TANKMEN: M. Raftree, J. Masterson, J. Cunniff, R. Smith.

spiritual

Having reviewed the different aspects of the Mass and the life of Christ in the Freshman Religion course, the boys go on to study the history of their Church. There is much to be learned and digested in this branch of our religion course; the lives of the saints, the great doctors of the Church and the great popes who have led Catholicism through the persecutions of all ages. Father George is the teacher.

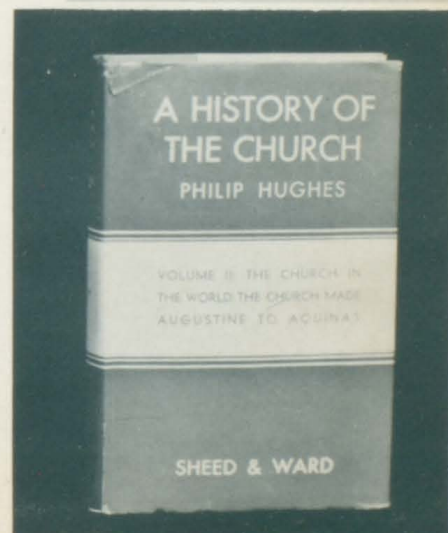

"FATHER GEORGE FOR POPE!": Father George, Sophomore Religion teacher, clears up some problems in Church History.

Invading the insides of various organisms is the major project of Father Basil's Biology Club. Comprised only of sophomores, this group takes a deeper insight to the Biological world than does the regular class; hydroponics, experiments with skulls and skeletons, dissecting and research are all part of this organization's agenda.

WINTER SOCIAL

The Christmas assembly, an old tradition of St. Benedict's, was held on December 16, 1955 to usher in the holiday season. Under the sponsorship of the senior class, the assembly featured selections by the Glee Club. Dave Dunphy, senior class vice president, was the chairman.

AT THE VICTORY DANCE: Couples carouse at the Victory Cruise held on December 19, 1955. Gerry Glynn was the Chairman.

PAY ATTENTION TO YOUR DRUMMING: Vinnie Waldron's music enchants all at the Victory Cruise.

AND TO ALL A GOOD NIGHT: Santa Claus, bearing a faint resemblance to Herk Boyle, greets the Bees at the Christmas Assembly.

DARKROOM DEVELOPMENTS: W. Beagan, D. Eisenbiel, W. Popaca, F. Cusick, J. Costa and C. Wojcik inspect work of photographic art.

camera club

The function of the Camera Club at St. Benedict's is to convert the lowly shutterbugs into artists of photography. In doing this, Father Terence, the moderator, leads his bulb-poppers through the jungles of apparatus enroute to better all-around pictures, stressing subject matter and photo angles.

BREWING UP DEVELOPING FLUID: J. O'Donnell, J. Basralian, R. Oldes, and D. Helm work on their Camera Club project.

"AND NOBODY FELL ASLEEP!" Rev. Edward Tarrant, S.P.M., gives mid-term Day of Reflection.

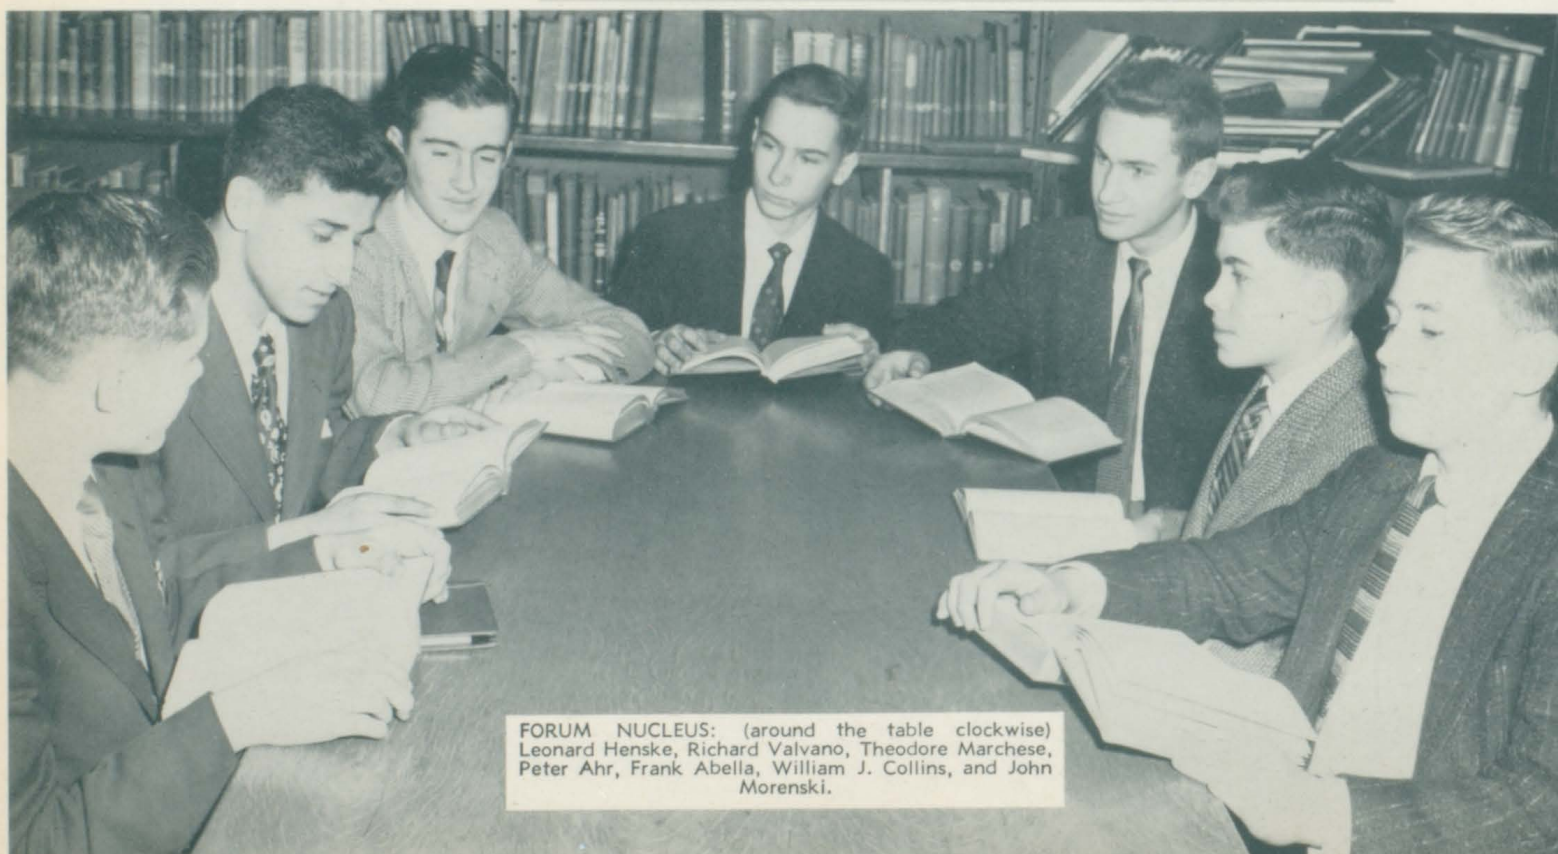

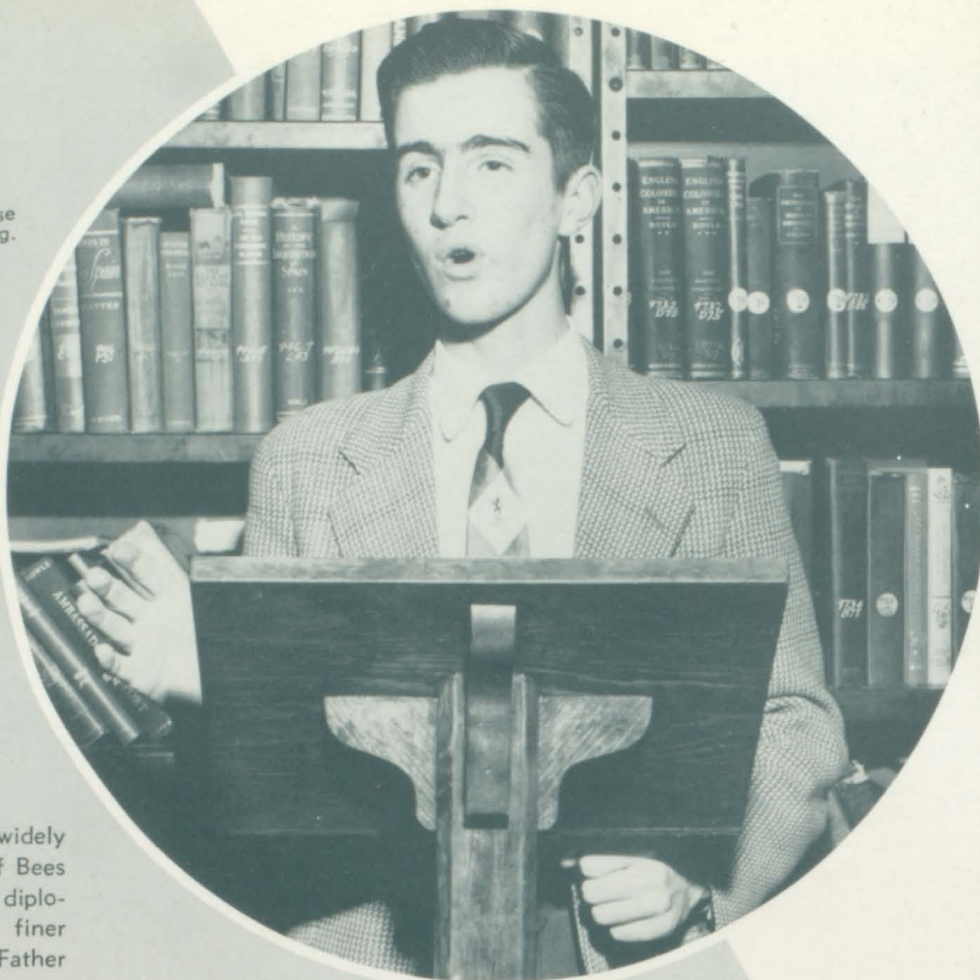

The Junior Religion course at Saint Benedict's is invaluable in that it covers the all important, prayer and the sacraments. In order to attain heaven, which is the ultimate goal of everyone on earth, it is necessary that we, as Catholics, know how to pray properly and use the sacraments to the best advantage. Is this not, then, the purpose of Religion in this life?

GRADUATES

the culmination of a high school life is usually the senior year, the year when a class, for the first time, can dominate the school in mostly all activities. academically, of course, it is the most advanced and therefore the hardest of the four years, but the rewards come when the student enters college and is once more a freshman. more of everything seems to have been the general theme of our senior year at st. benedict's: more social life, athletics, and studies. however trying the year may be, one can usually look back with satisfaction at a job well done.

SENIOR BIGWIGS: Thomas Carey, Secretary; David Dunphy, Vice President; James Kelly, President; Maurice Tauriello, Treasurer; Father Columba, Moderator.

ONE FRIDAY A MONTH: Father Laurence gives Peter Sullivan the Eucharist on the monthly Communion Day.

The Senior Religion course is organized with the thought in mind that within a few years after graduation, most seniors will be out in the world on their own, exposed to the different trials of faith and sex. Apologetics, which covers the proofs of God's existence and Catholic slants on worldly events, is featured in the first semester. Lectures on various aspects of married life, with a regard for both impediments and the role of sex, are given in the second semester by Father Martin, the teacher.

THE BOSS: Editor-in-Chief
Charlie Drew checks material.

MANAGING THE LAYOUTS.
Layout and Managing editor
Clair Flinn works with his ruler.

PEN-PAL: Literary Editor
Tom Clohosey tries his hand at writing.

tographer Dick Pizzano taking a pic-

SUBORDINATES: Associate Editors Dave Broome,

QUASI-PICTO-AUTOBIOGRAPHY

As the title suggests, this section is sort of an autobiography in pictures. This year's Telolog staff was distinguished by remarkable cooperation on the part of most of the staff members.

The Editors have all done a commendable job in planning and writing the book; while the Associate Editors typed and gave other assistance without which the completion of the book would have been impossible. The Business Department kept the ads straight and the money rolling in.

All these factors combine to make what we hope will be one of the best yearbooks Benedict's ever put out.

BOOKKEEPERS: Business Associates Tom McNicholas and Jim McKenzie make book.

BACK FROM VACATION: Efficient Co-Sports Editors Bart Licciardo and Sam Cerrato co-sports edit their section.

CRUMMY BOOKS: Charlie Crummy, Business Manager, manages the Telolog's business.

SENIOR SOCIAL

"WELCOME FOR $1.50": Everybody was "invited" to the Inaugural.

VICTORY CAROUSE: Couples carouse around at the Victory Dance to Vinnie Waldron's music.

SOCIAL LIGHT: Murray the chairman and Collins his henchman with the ladies under exotic street light at the Inaugural dance.

ATHLETIC HONOR ROLL: M.C. Joe Reardon lauds athletes present at the Victory Cruise.

EXECUTIVES: Secretary Carey, President Kelly, and Vice President Dunphy pose with their escorts at the Inaugural.

PROM COMMITTEE: (Seated) Ray Lefebvre, Frank Murray (Co-Chairman), Mark Mauriello, (Co-Chairman), Clair Flinn. (Standing) Tom Brown, Anthony DiFlumeri, Bill Melia, Jerome Vacarezza, Bill McNamara, Paul Schedler, Jake McCullen, Jim McKenzie, Casimir Kelly, Bill Collins and Dave Boyle.

THE "NAUTILUS"

Atomic Sub and Builders Rely on World's Greatest Lubrication Knowledge

With the launching of the "Nautilus"—world's first atomic-powered submarine—the U.S. Navy crossed the threshold of the atomic age.

Socony-Vacuum is proud that it has been able to play a dual role in this most significant event.

First, famous Socony-Vacuum lubricants are now protecting vital machinery aboard the "Nautilus."

Second, Electric Boat Division, General Dynamics Corp.—builder of the "Nautilus"—relies 100% on our lubricants and a program of Correct Lubrication to protect its plant equipment... has done so for the past 34 years!

We wish the "Nautilus" and her crew all success...pledge our continued cooperation, in every way possible, to the Navy and its suppliers, toward the end of keeping America and her allies strong.
